

Inseqr SZUMIK

Who for?

SZUMIK is designed for key personnel in companies and institutions for whom the confidentiality of information is crucial. With the acoustic box, it is easy to secure the venue for meetings and critical conversations. By using SZUMIK, it is guaranteed that your meetings and conversations are confidential and secure!

What distinguishes the Inseqr solution?

SZUMIK enables the elimination of the threat of eavesdropping or recording conversations via brought in devices such as the omnipresent smartphones. The box can be located at the venue of the discussions, so meeting participants are in control of the deposited devices.

WE CREATE A CULTURE OF SECURITY SZUMIK – keeps your meetings and conversations confidential and secure!

SZUMIK is an anti-hearing device designed on the basis of an acoustic box. It acts as a secure depository for devices with the ability to capture or transmit sound. As a result, it eliminates the threat of eavesdropping or recording conversations with smartphones and other recording devices.

Advantages:

Provides protection by permanently generating acoustic noise

Prevents remote eavesdropping on conversations in different languages

It can indicate connection attempts on request

Includes advanced techniques to prevent filtering out of jamming signals

Aesthetically integrates into any office environment

It is constructed in accordance with the legally required CE standards

Effectively prevents monitoring by assistants embedded in mobile systems and dedicated malware

Does not block incoming calls (unlike other such devices designed on the basis of a Faraday cage)

SZUMIK qualities:

- Guarantee of security and confidentiality of conversations and meetings
- Security for several smartphones simultaneously
- Customised box aesthetics
- Mobility of the solution
- Effective, discreet eavesdropping system
